What Would You Bring?

The Salado people left a lot of things behind when they moved on from the Tonto Basin because they could only take what they could carry on their back. What would you bring with you if you had to leave your home? Take a look at the Items to Bring With You, cut out the four you think are the most important, and glue or tape them into the backpack below.

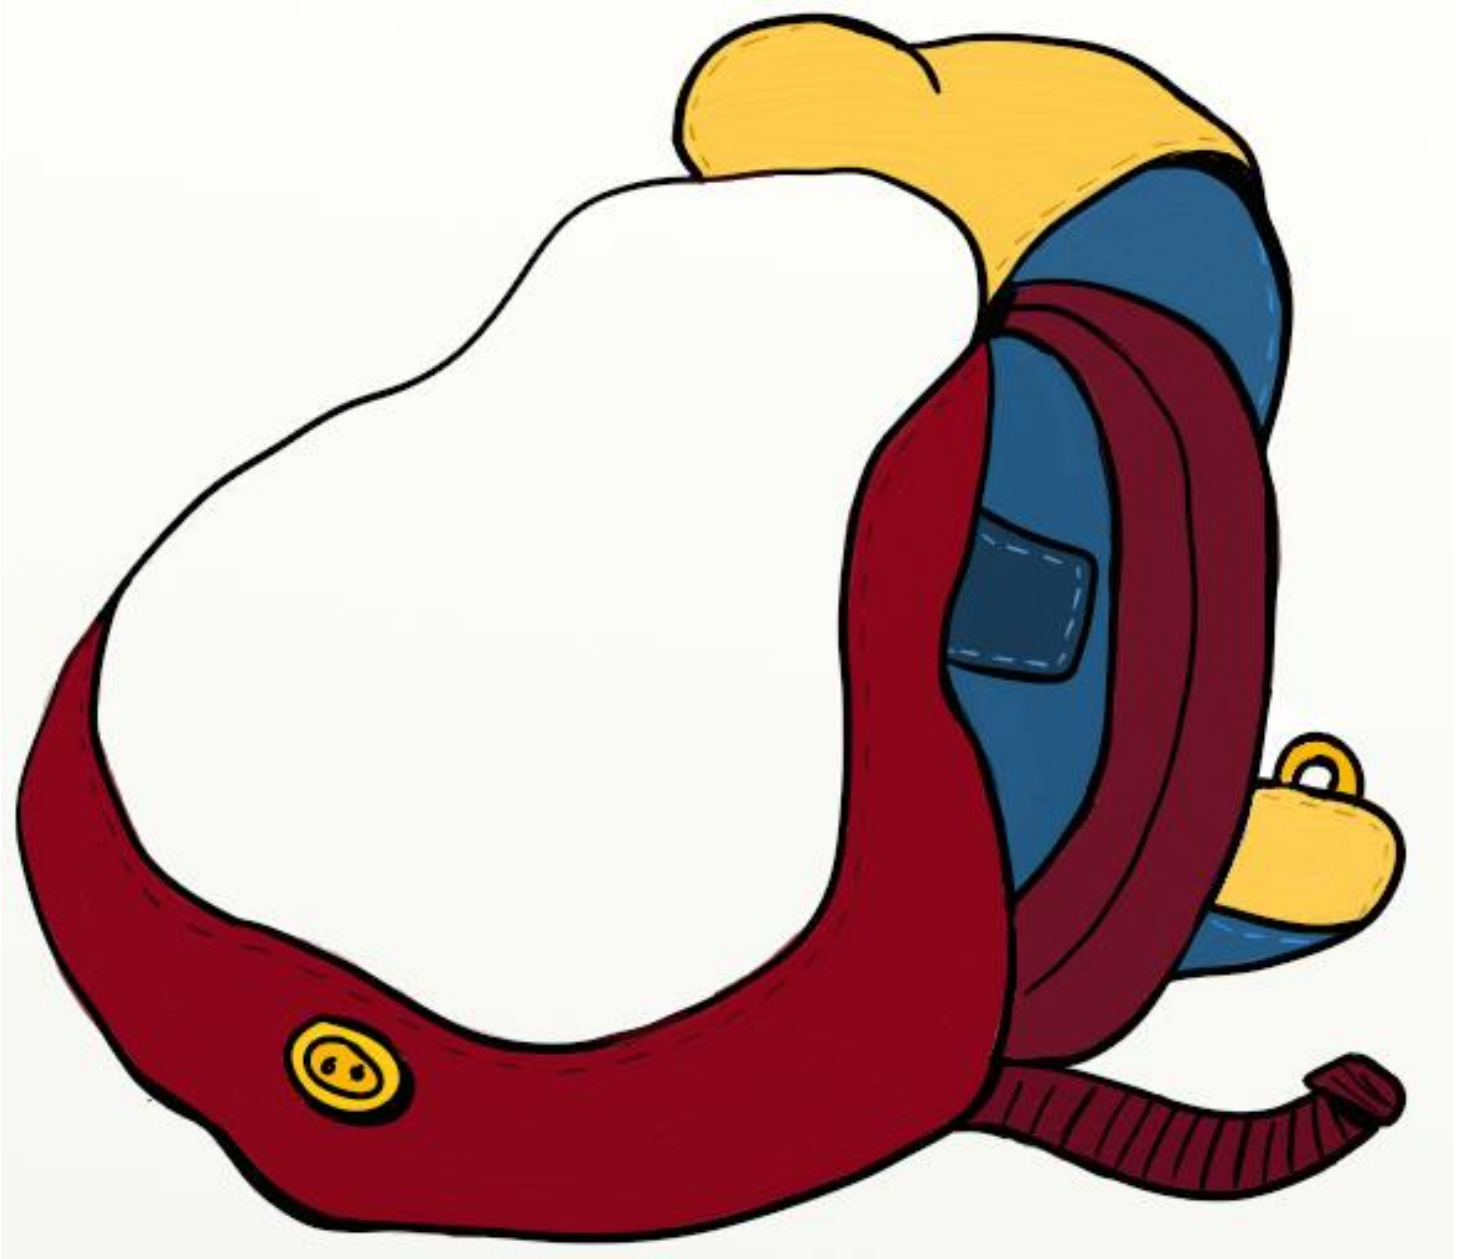

Think about all the things you would leave behind and how long they would be preserved. How would you want people to treat your bedroom when you left?

Let's Work Together!

The Salado people left the Tonto Basin 600 years ago in small groups and family units. They could bring a wider variety of items because they could share. In your team, select four items for each of you to carry in the same way you did for the individual backpack, keeping in mind that you can share.

How does traveling on your own compare to traveling in a group? Which would you rather do?
